

Murilo Contó

Position nominated for:
HTAD Board Member

Affiliated Society:
Brazilian Society of Biomedical Engineering

More than 25 years working with medical devices, including activities in the industry, hospitals, federal government and international organization. Current Health Policy Manager at Boston Scientific Co. in charged of activities related to Clinical Research, HTA and Government Affairs. Member-elected of HTAD (2018-2021), Prior positions: National Consultant in Management and Evaluation of Health Technologies at PAHO/WHO (2015-2018); Specialist Consultant at National Metrology Institute (INMETRO) for evaluations in electro medical equipment (2012-2018). HTA Specialist of the National Commission for Incorporation of Technologies into SUS – CONITEC (2012-2015), preparing HTA reports for incorporation. Manager of the Medical Equipment Investments for the Public Health System (SUS) in the Ministry of Health, being responsible for the creation of the National List of Medical Equipment and Permanent Materials for the SUS (RENEM); Cooperation Program for Technical and Economic Information (PROCOT); and the Management System for Financeable Medical Equipment for the SUS (SIGEM). Graduated in Health Technology (1995), post-graduate degree in Hospital Administration (1997), Clinical Engineering (2000), MBA in Health System Management (2012) and Master's Degree in Health Technology Assessment (2019).