Affiliated Society:	The Canadian Medical and Biological Engineering Society

Brief Biography (not to exceed 200 words)

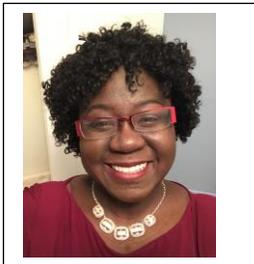

Marie-Ange Janvier is a certified clinical engineer (CCE) that works at the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario (CHEO) in Ottawa, Canada. She is a licensed professional engineer in the province of Ontario and Quebec. In 2022, she was awarded Outstanding Canadian Biomedical Engineer by the Canadian Medical and Biological Engineering Society (CMBES). She is a member of CMBES and the American College of Clinical Engineers (ACCE). Mrs. Janvier is the Past Chair for the Canadian Board of Examiners for Clinical Engineering Certification. She is also the Vice-President CMBES which is Canada's principal society for engineering in medicine and biology. She has a PhD in biomedical engineering from the University of Montreal. She also holds a degree from electrical engineering from the University of Ottawa. She is a part-time professor at the University of Ottawa for undergraduates and graduates in the biomedical engineering program. She is an Adjunct Research Professor at Carleton University in the Department of Systems and Computer Engineering and an Adjunct Professor at the Ottawa University in the Department of Mechanical Engineering. In her spare time, she always looks for ways to help developing countries in equipment donation. She is a mentor for Clinical Engineering Student Interns.

Position Statement (not to exceed 200 words)

Marie-Ange Janvier is a passionate and driven professional with a proven track record of leadership, determination, and collaboration. As a nominee for the Digital Health Division Board Member of IFMBE, representing the North American region, she is committed to advancing digital health initiatives and fostering international collaboration. Her vision includes bringing the first Digital Health Conference to North America, creating a platform for innovation, knowledge-sharing, and networking within the region.

Marie-Ange is known for her dynamic energy, enthusiasm, and ability to inspire teams to achieve shared goals. She values inclusivity, ensuring all voices are heard and respected in the organizations she serves. As a bilingual woman and a visible minority, she brings a unique perspective and a deep understanding of the challenges faced by marginalized communities, advocating for fair representation and equity.

Her dedication to her community and international representation, coupled with her compassionate and collaborative approach, makes her an ideal candidate for this role. Marie-Ange is eager to contribute her skills, foster partnerships, and drive impactful change within the IFMBE and the global digital health community.
